2020. 1 electronic resource (236 pages). ISBN 9783110601183

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Housing matters, no matter when or where. This volume of collected essays on housing in colonial and postcolonial Africa seeks to elaborate how and why housing is much more than an everyday practice. The politics of housing unfold in disparate dimensions of time, space and agency. Depending on context, they acquire diverse, often ambivalent, meanings. Housing can be a promise, an unfulfilled dream, a tool of self- and class-assertion, a negotiation process, or a means to achieve other ends. This volume analyzes housing in its multifacetedness, be it a lens to offer insights into complex processes that shape societies; be it a tool of empire to exercise control over private relations of inhabitants; or be it a means to create good, obedient and productive citizens. Contributions to this volume range from the field of history, to architecture and urban planning, African studies, linguistics, and literature. The individual case studies home in on specific aspects and dimensions of housing and seek to bring them into dialogue with each other. By doing so, the volume aims to add to the debate on studying urban practices and their significance for current social change.

It introduces a comparative perspective in identifying and discussing similarities and differences in East Asia based on in-depth case studies in the fields of environmental issues, national identities as well as neoliberalism and social inclusion that go beyond the classic dichotomy of state vs liberal civil society.

Foxen, Anya P.: Inhaling spirit

harmonialism, orientalism, and the western roots of modern yoga / Anya P. Foxen. 2020. 322 Seiten. ISBN 978-0-19-008273-4 Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: “This book follows up on recent findings that modern postural yoga is the outcome of a complex process of trans-cultural exchange and syncretism and digs even deeper, looking to uncover the disparate but entangled roots of contemporary yoga practice. In doing so, it proposes that some of what we call yoga, especially when it comes to North America and Europe, is only slightly genealogically related to pre-modern Indian yoga traditions. Rather, they are equally if not more grounded in Hellenistic theories of the subtle body, Western esotericism and magic, pre-modern European medicine, and late-nineteenth-century women’s wellness programs. Marshalling these under the umbrella category of “harmonialism,” the present book argues that they constitute a history of analogous practices that were gradually subsumed into the language of yoga. This allows us to fundamentally recontextualize the peculiarities of Western, and especially certain mainstream American form of yoga-their focus on aesthetic representation, their privileging of bodily posture and unsystematic incorporation of breathwork, and above all their overwhelmingly privileged female demographics. The initial chapters of the book lay out the basic shape and history of these concepts and practices, while the later chapters explore their development into a spiritualized form of women’s physical culture over the course of the late-nineteenth and early-twentieth centuries, including the ways in which they became increasingly associated with yoga”-.

Gorman, Joe: Heartland

how rugby league explains Queensland / Joe Gorman (author). 2019. 280 pages. ISBN 978-0-7022-6042-1, ISBN 978-0-7022-6218-0 Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: 'A compelling read which evokes great memories and highlights the importance of rugby league to this state.' Mal Meninga For more than 40 years, rugby league has embodied all the hopes and dreams, contradictions and tensions of life in the Sunshine State. The game speaks to Queenslanders' sense of being the underdog and the outsider - a powerful undercurrent that sweeps through politics, business, the arts, and sport. The enduring appeal of State of Origin is that it allows Queensland to balance the scales, at least for 80 minutes. In Heartland, journalist Joe Gorman chronicles a tale of loss and rebirth - from the decline of the Brisbane Rugby League competition and North Queensland's Foley Shield to the extraordinary rise of the Broncos and the Cowboys in the NRL. Weaving together stories of diehard supporters and game-changing players, from Arthur Beetson to Johnathan Thurston, this is a revealing account of Queensland's coming of age, both on and off the field.

Loke, Andrew: Investigating the Resurrection of Jesus Christ

2020. 1 electronic resource (246 pages). ISBN 9780367477561

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: This book provides an original and comprehensive assessment of the hypotheses concerning the origin of resurrection Christology. It fills a gap in the literature by addressing these issues using a transdisciplinary approach involving historical-critical study of the New Testament, theology, analytic philosophy, psychology, and comparative religion. Using a novel analytic framework, this book demonstrates that a logically exhaustive list of hypotheses concerning the claims of Jesus' post-mortem appearances and the outcome of Jesus' body can be formulated. It addresses these hypotheses in detail, including sophisticated combinations of hallucination hypothesis with cognitive dissonance; memory distortion; and confirmation bias. Addressing writings from both within and outside of Christianity, it also demonstrates how a comparative religion approach might further illuminate the origins of Christianity. This is a thorough study of arguably the key event in the formation of the Christian faith. As such, it will be of keen interest to theologians, New Testament scholars, philosophers, and scholars of religious studies.

Manafis, Panagiotis: (Re)writing History in Byzantium

2020. 1 electronic resource (372 pages). ISBN 9780367367305

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Scholars have recently begun to study collections of Byzantine historical excerpts as autonomous pieces of literature. This book focuses on a series of minor collections that have received little or no scholarly attention, including the Epitome of the Seventh Century, the Excerpta Anonymi (tenth century), the Excerpta Salmasiana (eighth to eleventh centuries), and the Excerpta Planudea (thirteenth century). Three aspects of these texts are analysed in detail: their method of redaction, their literary structure, and their cultural and political function. Combining codicological, literary, and political analyses, this study contributes to a better understanding of the intertwining of knowledge and power, and suggests that these collections of historical excerpts should be seen as a Byzantine way of rewriting history.

Müller, Ulrich / Haug, Annette / Nicola, Chiarenza: The Power of Urban Water. Studies in Premodern Urbanism

2020. 1 electronic resource (280 pages). ISBN 9783110677065

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Water is a global resource for modern societies - and water was a global resource for pre-modern societies. The many different water systems serving processes of urbanisation and urban life in ancient times and the Middle Ages have hardly been researched until now. The numerous contributions to this volume pose questions such as what the basic cultural significance of water was, the power of water, in the town and for the town, from different points of view. Symbolic, aesthetic, and cult aspects are taken up, as is the role of water in politics, society, and economy, in daily life, but also in processes of urban planning or in urban neighbourhoods. Not least, the dangers of polluted water or of flooding presented a challenge to urban society. The contributions in this volume draw attention to the complex, manifold relations between water and human beings. This collection presents the results of an international conference in Kiel in 2018. It is directed towards both scholars in ancient and mediaeval studies and all those interested in the diversity of water systems in urban space in ancient and mediaeval times.

Castells, in his afterword to this book, always looking forward, assesses the role of the university in the wake of the upheavals to the global economic order. He decides the university's function not only remains, but is more important than ever. Nguyen, C. Thi: Games agency as art / C. Thi Nguyen. (Thinking art) 2020. 244 pages. ISBN 978-0-19-005208-9 Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: "Games are a unique art form. The game designer doesn't just create a world; they create who you will be in that world. They tell you what abilities to use and what goals to take on. In other words, they specify a form of agency. Games work in the medium of agency. And to play them, we take on alternate agencies and submerge ourselves in them. What can we learn about our own rationality and agency, from thinking about games? We learn that we have a considerable degree of fluidity with our agency. First, we have the capacity for a peculiar sort of motivational inversion. For some of us, winning is not the point. We take on an interest in winning temporarily, so that we can play the game. Thus, we are capable of taking on temporary and disposable ends. We can submerge ourselves in alternate agencies, letting them dominate our consciousness, and then dropping them the moment the game is over. Games are, then, a way of recording forms of agency, of encoding them in artifacts.

This conceptually aligns with the current UNESCO protocols that accent empathy, creativity, cooperation, collaboration alongside skills and knowledge -based learning in an endeavour to create civic mindedness and a more harmonious world. This volume is an invaluable resource for teachers, policy makers, artists and scholars interested in pedagogy, choreography, community dance practice,

Penier, Izabella: Culture-bearing Women. The Black Women Renaissance and Cultural Nationalism

2019. 1 electronic resource (220 pages). ISBN 9788395609558

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: This study examines the Black Women's Renaissance (BWR) - the flowering of literary talent among African American women at the end of the 20th century. It focuses on the historical and heritage novels of the 1980s and the vexed relationship between black cultural nationalism and black feminism. It argues that when the nation seemingly fell out of fashion, black women writers sought to re-create what Renan called "a soul, a spiritual principle" for their ethnic group. BWR narratives, especially those associated with womanism, appreciated "culture bearing" mothers as cultural reproducers of the nation and transmitters of its values. In this way, the writers of the BWR gave rise to "matrifocal" cultural nationalism that superseded masculine cultural nationalism of the previous decade and made black women, instead of black men, principal agents/carriers of national identity.-

Risner, Douglas S. / Schupp, Karen: Ethical dilemmas in dance education case studies on humanizing dance pedagogy / edited by Doug Risner and Karen Schupp. 2020. x, 341 Seiten. ISBN 978-1-4766-6717-1 EAN: 9781476667171, Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: "The first of its kind, this volume presents case studies from experts in the field of dance education, examining theory and practice developed from real-world scenarios that call for ethical decision-making. Dilemmas faced by dance instructors in the studio, on stage, in recreation centers and correctional facilities, and on social media are explored, accompanied by activities for humanizing dance pedagogy. These challenges converge from educational policies and mandates developed over the past two decades, including teacher-proof "scripted" curriculum, high-stakes testing, standardization and methods-centered teacher preparation, and are often perpetuated by those who want to make change happen but do not know how".

an empowering story about how to be a great leader / Martin Rooney, Founder of Training For Warriors. 2020. 188 Seiten. ISBN 978-1-119-66219-8 Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: "The world needs better coaches. If Martin Rooney asked you to name the top 20 basketball, football or baseball players of all time, he doesn't think you would have a problem quickly rattling off a comprehensive list. Granted your list might not be the same as everyone else's, but I it wouldn't be too difficult for you to come up with a bunch of names in a short period of time. But what if he asked you to name the top 20 coaches of all time? Do you think you could come up with a list just as fast as you did for the athletes? If you were lucky, maybe you might spit out a couple legendary names like Lombardi or Wooden, but your pool of names would dry up pretty fast. And what would you even use to as criteria to create your coach list anyway? Wins? Championships? Sport Knowledge? Popularity? In any case, the question shows you great coaches are a rare breed. Not convinced? Think about your own experience in life with coaches. You have had both good and bad coaches.

Russell, Tilden / Russell, Tilden: Dance theory

source readings from two millennia of Western dance / a critical anthology by Tilden Russell. 2020. xxvi, 294 Seiten. ISBN 978-0-19-005976-7, ISBN 978-0-19-005975-0 EAN: 9780190059767, Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: "This book began in 2014 as an introduction to the book I was then writing about a small group of dance theorists-five Germans and an Englishman-and their treatises published between 1703 and 1721: obviously a very narrow conspectus in subject and years. The aim of the introduction was to place these largely ignored writers (especially the Germans) in a broad historical context that would demonstrate how essential and pivotal they were. As I read further in dance theory I found more and more sources on the subject that turned out to be far more interesting and complex than I had originally imagined. The introduction kept getting longer, until it became an albatross on the book's actual text, not only because of its ever-increasing length, but more gravely, because I had assumed it would trace a teleological ascent in dance theory culminating in my authors and their works, followed by a degenerative aftermath.

Santos, Ricardo Ventura / Guimarães, Bruno Nogueira / Campos, Marden Barbosa de: Entre Demografia e Antropologia: povos indígenas no Brasil

2019. 1 electronic resource (pages). ISBN 9786557080139

Portuguese. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Oitavo livro da coleção Saúde dos Povos Indígenas, Entre Demografia e Antropologia: povos indígenas no Brasil apresenta profundas avaliações sobre as dinâmicas populacionais indígenas. A coletânea levanta contribuições que indicam que os escassos dados demográficos de décadas atrás se tornaram mais abundantes, passando a fomentar políticas públicas. Em suas abordagens, a obra passa por pesquisas e conhecimentos multidisciplinares, que vão de questões de migração, mobilidade e dinâmica territorial até a contextualização de dados censitários e a forma como a população indígena é retratada nos censos demográficos do Brasil. A antropóloga Marta Azevedo ressalta a importância de "buscar uma maior participação da população indígena na produção de dados e análises demográficas". Segundo ela, tão estratégico quanto continuar a fomentar a realização de uma demografia indígena é formar demógrafos indígenas no país. O anseio expressado pela autora e organizadora aparece no último capítulo do livro, que é dividido em três partes: Perspectivas a partir do Campo, Dados Censitários em Contexto e Trajetórias, Categorias, Implicações.

2005. 1 electronic resource (304 pages). ISBN 9783486702842

German. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Nur wenigen Deutschen ist bewusst, dass auch die italienische Armee am Krieg gegen die Sowjetunion beteiligt war. In Italien ist die Erinnerung an Mussolinis blutiges Abenteuer an der Ostfront hingegen bis heute lebendig geblieben. Allerdings blendet diese Erinnerung unbequeme Themen weitgehend aus und lässt die Soldaten des königlichen Heeres als unschuldige Opfer erscheinen, die nicht zuletzt von ihren deutschen Verbündeten im Stich gelassen worden seien. Dass die Realität bei weitem komplexer war, zeigen nicht nur Dokumente aus deutschen und italienischen Archiven: Der Band ordnet die Campagna italiana di Russia in die größeren Zusammenhänge ein, thematisiert Kriegführung, Besatzungspraxis sowie Mentalität der italienischen Armee an der Ostfront und hinterfragt das Verhältnis der Bündnispartner.

2020. 1 electronic resource (273 pages). ISBN 9783110639247

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: This publication seeks to endeavour the relationship between material artefacts and reading practices in ancient and medieval cultures. While the acts of reception of written artefacts in former times are irretrievably lost, some of the involved artefacts are preserved and might comprise hints to the ancient reading practices. In form of case studies, the contributions to this volume examine various forms of written artefacts as to their implications on modes of reading. Analyzing different Qumran scrolls, codices, Tefillin, Mezuzot, magical texts, tablets, bricks, and statues as well as meta-textual and iconographic aspects, the articles inquire the possibilities of how to correlate material aspects to assumed modes of reception and practices of reading. The contributions stem from Egyptology, Papyrology, Qumran Studies, Biblical Studies, Jewish Studies, Ancient Christianity, and Islamic Studies. In total, this volume contributes to the research on practices of reception in times past and demonstrates the potential hidden in text-bearing artefacts.

Short, William Michael (eds.) / Mocciaro, Egle: Toward a Cognitive Classical Linguistics. The Embodied Basis of Constructions in Greek and Latin

2019. 1 electronic resource (430 pages). ISBN 9783110616347

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: This volume gathers a series of papers that bring the study of grammatical and syntactic constructions in Greek and Latin under the perspective of theories of embodied meaning developed in cognitive linguistics. Building on the momentum currently enjoyed by cognitive-functional approaches to language within the field of Classics, its contributors adopt, in particular, a 'constructional' approach that treats morphosyntactic constructions as meaningful in and of themselves. Thus, they are able to address the role of human cognitive embodiment in determining the meanings of linguistic phenomena as diverse as verbal affixes, discourse particles, prepositional phrases, lexical items, and tense semantics in both Greek and Latin.

Smith, Toby: Crazy Fourth

how Jack Johnson kept his heavyweight title and put Las Vegas, New Mexico, on the map / Toby Smith. 2020. 181 Seiten. ISBN 978-0-8263-6143-1 Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: "In 1912 boxing was as popular a spectator sport in the United States as baseball, if not more so. It was also rife with corruption and surrounded by gambling, drinking, and prostitution, so much so that many cities and states passed laws to control it. But not in New Mexico. It was the perfect venue for one of the biggest, loudest, most rambunctious heavyweight championship bouts ever seen. In Crazy Fourth Toby Smith tells the story of how the African American boxer Jack Johnson-the bombastic and larger-than-life reigning world heavyweight champion-met Jim Flynn on the fourth of July in Las Vegas, New Mexico. The civic boosters, bursting with pride in their town, raised a hundred thousand dollars for the fight, pushing events like the sinking of the Titanic to the back pages of every newspaper. In the end, once the dust finally settled on the whole unseemly spectacle, Las Vegas would spend the next generation making good on its losses"-.

Steinbach, Markus / Pfau, Roland / Herrmann, Annika: A Matter of Complexity. Subordination in Sign Languages

2016. 1 electronic resource (262 pages). ISBN 9781501503238

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Since natural languages exist in two different modalities - the visual-gestural modality of sign languages and the auditory-oral modality of spoken languages - it is obvious that all fields of research in modern linguistics will benefit from research on sign languages. Although previous studies have provided important insights into a wide range of phenomena of sign languages, there are still many aspects of sign languages that have not yet been investigated thoroughly. The structure of subordinated clauses is a case in point. The study of these complex syntactic structures in the visual-gestural modality adds to our understanding of linguistic variation in the domain of subordination. Moreover, it offers new empirical and theoretical evidence concerning possible structures and functions of subordination in natural languages. And last but not least, it answers the question to what extent the corresponding morphosyntactic and prosodic strategies depend on the modality of articulation and perception. This volume represents the first collection of papers by leading experts in the field investigating topics that go beyond the analysis of simple clauses. It thus contributes in innovative ways to recent debates about syntax, prosody, semantics, discourse structure, and information structure and their complex interrelation.

2016. 1 electronic resource (426 pages). ISBN 9783110308464

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: Scientometrics have become an essential element in the practice and evaluation of science and research, including both the evaluation of individuals and national assessment exercises. Yet, researchers and practitioners in this field have lacked clear theories to guide their work. As early as 1981, then doctoral student Blaise Cronin published The need for a theory of citing -a call to arms for the fledgling scientometric community to produce foundational theories upon which the work of the field could be based. More than three decades later, the time has come to reach out the field again and ask how they have responded to this call. This book compiles the foundational theories that guide informetrics and scholarly communication research. It is a much needed compilation by leading scholars in the field that gathers together the theories that guide our understanding of authorship, citing, and impact.

Wakefield, Stephanie: Anthropocene Back Loop

2020. 1 electronic resource (215 pages). ISBN 9781785420726

English. Inhaltliche Zusammenfassung: In the face of climate chaos, post-truth politics, and growing tribalisms, it's clear that liberalism's old structures are unraveling. Drawing on resilience ecology, Stephanie Wakefield suggests we understand such phenomena to be indicators that we are entering the Anthropocene's back loop, a time of release and collapse, confusion and reorientation, in which not only populations and climates are being upended but also physical and metaphysical grounds. Anthropocene Back Loop takes us on a journey through different responses and manifestations of the back loop, exploring urban resilience infrastructures, post-apocalyptic imaginaries in fiction and critical theory, and a range of everyday practices from survival skills and physical fitness to experimentation with one's soul. Rather than returning to liberalism's safe operating space, what is needed and what can be seen in many contemporary practices, Wakefield argues, are forms of experimentation geared toward charting autonomous modes of living within the back loop's new unsafe operating spaces. Such efforts often let go of old frameworks, hubristically experiment with new uses, cultivate an allowance for the unknown, and embrace a confidence in exploring one's own pathways. What these iterations suggest is that the back loop, long imagined in the singular, is spiraling out into myriad trajectories. After all, if we take seriously the idea that liberalism's single world order is unraveling, we have the opportunity - one many have long fought for - to create our own new codes, if not new worlds. Being in the back loop means that we have already crossed various tipping points, and that in doing so, everything from social practices, technologies, and truth to plants, animals, and places have become shaken out of their normal frameworks. We are free to move on new planes.
